

Camp rules Roverway 2018

In addition to the Terms & conditions and national law, the following camp rules apply for Roverway 2018

Visibility, body wear & identification

1. You must wear your scarf and Roverway 2018 ID at all times. You are strongly encouraged to wear your uniform during official ceremonies. According to Dutch law, you need to be able to identify yourself with valid identification (passport or ID-card).
2. All participants and staff members must cover their upper body part at all times in respect to all cultures and backgrounds, swimming and water activities excluded. You must wear at least trousers, a shirt and shoes when entering a place where food and drinks are served.
3. Planning Team members need to be recognizable by their Planning Team wear and their Planning Team ID and must dress appropriately.

Access

1. You cannot leave the Roverway 2018 premises without permission. Only visitors with prior permission can enter the site.
2. Selling or supplying food or drinks and advertising/marketing activities are not allowed without prior written consent of the Roverway 2018 organisation.
3. Pets are not allowed for hygienic reasons and allergies. Exceptions can be made for registered assistance dogs that aid participants or staff members, but need to be requested and agreed upon first.

Safety & security

1. Participants and staff members are responsible for their personal belongings. Please keep these safe at all times.
2. Participants may carry pen knives with a single sharp edge. In case you want to bring your knife, it is recommended to bring a small Swiss Army knife.
3. Swimming is allowed at the designated areas and not at night.
4. Campfires are only authorised at designated sites and under supervision of Roverway 2018 staff.
5. It is not allowed to bring mobile power generators, large batteries, professional light and sound systems, drones or laser equipment.
6. Announcements and directions from the Roverway 2018 Planning Team or emergency services need to be followed up immediately and decently.
7. The maximum number of participants per tent is 10.

Behaviour

1. Participants and staff members need to show respect to everyone at all times. Violence and discrimination are not tolerated, as well as the threat of these. Excessive behaviour can result in elimination from Roverway 2018. The police will be notified if national law has been broken, e.g. theft, graffiti or damage to property. HoC and/or NSO/MO and/or WOSM/WAGGGS will be notified. Damage will be charged to the responsible person. Climbing on and tampering with Roverway 2018 property is prohibited.
2. Sexual activity is not encouraged during Roverway 2018. Sexual activity between participants and non-participants is prohibited. Please respect everyone's personal space and be culturally sensitive when interacting with others.
3. The possession, consumption and selling of alcohol or drugs during Roverway 2018 is prohibited. Smoking is only tolerated in designated areas.
4. In sleeping areas silence is required between 23:00 and 7:00.
5. Garbage needs to be separated and deposited in the designated areas and containers.

Final say

In case of doubt or dispute on these camp rules, the Project Directors will have the binding/final decision.
